Ryan Jones - Manna

Get Connected

Ryan and his family exude God's love to the world. Being a Missionary with Manna Worldwide is a blessing. Read a portion of his last month in the field.

"I have returned from Honduras and it was an amazing trip. Part of the team helped drill a water well for a community that had no well. They had to truck the water in to fill a tank. We were able to drill a well at the local church and they will now be able to provide water to the community and minister to them as well. We capped off the week by have a special service and praying over the well with the community. Others in the group were able to visit homes and take food baskets to families. We also distributed 60 water filters to families in need in another village and were able to share the Gospel in the process.

6 people prayed for salvation throughout the week! Several in the group had an opportunity to teach in local schools each day and use that as a means to love on the people and share the Gospel. It was wonderful getting to see each person on the team be used by the Lord and how the body fits together to serve in a greater capacity."

Will you be used by God today?

Pray for:

- This summer starts back to back mission trips with the whole family! Pray for safety, good health, and quality family time.
- Wisdom and safety as they lead mission teams.
- Favor and open doors with those they meet
- Discernment over opportunities that present themselves
